YANKEE STADIUM,
New York, Oct. 6.—In the midst of weather conditions that might have done for an order of puce of pea, the Yankees and Giants prepared for the opening of their second straight all-New York world series this afternoon in front of a crowd that was expected to reach and perhaps better the 60-000 mark.

An all night rain woke up with a hangover of mist and low-hanging clouds, reviving memories of last year's sodden inaugural in which the same teams wallowed through nine innings of semi-liquid entertainment.

Carl Hubbell, who scored the first of the Giants' two victories, that day, was to wheel his left arm into action against the rival New York club again today, with Vernon Gomez appearing on behalf of the Yankees and making it strictly a left-handed occasion.

Two Great Pitchers
Two of the great pitchers of this and preceding generations, they looked the part of a stand-off in the pre-game figuring; yet so tremendous was the prestige of the Yankee attack that odds as high as 9-5 were being quoted against Hub-

Still Against Crop Control, Grange Master Boak Declares

The Pennsylvania State Grange still stands opposed to any form of crop control because "federal crop
control is always doomed to failure,"
State Grange Master J. Audley
Boak declared here today.

Mr. Boak, a resident of Slippery Rock township, returned to his home county for a brief stay-over on a state-wide degree tour with other state officers.

Asked to comment on President
Roosevelt's reported plan to call Congress into special session during November to consider new wage hour and crop control legislation,
the Keystone grange chief said:

Law Of Supply and Demand

"The Pennsylvania Grange, you can still say, is opposed to crop control. We believe that the only crop
control is always doomed to failure,"
State Grange Master J. Audley
Boak declared here today.

"We're opposed to control as long as the imports keep up. It isn't generally known but its true that for every hog killed in Chicago since January 1, 1937, there has been one ham sent here from Poland, and for every 12 pounds of corn beef sold since the first of the year, 11 pounds have come from Argentina."

Plans Convention
Mr. Boak will preside over the annual state convention in Harrisburg.

Britain Will Ask Roosevelt About Stand

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The British government today decided to ask President Roosevelt just how far the United States will go to collaborate in restraining an aggressor nation.

During lengthy discussion of the president's Chicago peace address at his weekly meeting, the cabinet decided to instruct Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to Washington, to inquire into the exact meaning of the address.

In particular, Britain wants to know what steps the United States would be willing to take against an aggressor.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 6.—

to call a special session of congress between November 8 and 16 to take up crop control, hours and wages, government reorganization, establishment of eight regional planning boards—and possibly some new approach to the federal judiciary reorganization issue.

New Attack On Black Forecast

Nature Of Expected New Suit On Eligibility Is Guarded

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—A third attack upon the right of Justice Hugo L. Black to hold his seat on the supreme court will be made in the court, probably this week.

Lawyers who were preparing today to join Albert Levitt and Patrick H. Kelly, who already have challenged Justice Black's eligibility, carefully guarded the nature of their expected suit.

The supreme court is expected to rule on the Levitt and Kelly petitions Monday.

Meanwhile Justice Black, around whom a national controversy has developed because of his past connections with the Ku Klux Klan, exercised the functions of his office, apparently confident that all the attacks against him will fail. He sat in a conference with other justices, but it is believed that he did not participate in action on pending petitions because he had not had time to prepare himself. Other justices are expected to reach their final decision on the Levitt and Kelly motions on Saturday.

Jap Troops In Offensive Drive North Of Shanghai

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TOKYO, Oct. 6.—Japanese troops
today launched a general offensive against five Chinese divisions midway between Lotien and Taching, north of Shanghai, according to Japanese press dispatches from the front.

The messages said the Japanese forces, supported by aircraft and artillery, were locked in a vigorous engagement with the Chinese, and the outcome of the battle was not yet known.

The dispatches said the Chinese counter-attacked eight times during the night, aiming to throw the Japanese out of important strategic positions between Lotien and Kiating, but it was claimed the Chinese were repulsed, losing 300 dead in one thrust alone.

Miners Refuse To Leave Pit

(International News Service)

TAMAQUA, Pa., Oct. 6.—Forty-five anthracite miners employed by the Lehigh Navigation Coal Company today continued their day-old sit down strike 1,350 feet underground.

The strikers declared they are determined to occupy the eighth or bottom level of the Coaldale colliery, four miles from here, until the company yields to their demands for wages on a par with those paid miners on the colliery's seventh level.

The men stopped work during the afternoon shift yesterday and immediately sought to make themselves comfortable. The company permitted supplies of food to be lowered into the shaft, and later blankets, newspapers, magazines, and playing cards were given the strikers.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 6.—In another grim reply to President Roosevelt's arraignment of war makers, fifteen Japanese planes bombed Nanking today in a new attack on China's capital.

Nine of the planes broke through the capital's anti-aircraft defenses and showered their missiles upon the city. One Japanese craft was shot down.

At the same time, eight other planes attacked the Shanghai suburb of Wuhu and one of these, also,
was shot to earth.

As on the previous occasion when the Japanese replied to the American government's sharp protest against a previous nanking aerial bombardment, the Japanese ap-swer today was carried out by deeds, not words. The earlier American protest was followed by a devastating bombardment of Canton, in which thousands of civilians were killed.

Bomb Other Localities

Today, however, the Japanese did not confine their aerial activities to one region. In addition to bombing Nanking, other Japanese squadrons flew over the huge port of Canton, far to the south, and bombed the Canton-Hankow railway.

These planes were finally driven off by Chinese pursuit craft.

Fish Assails President's Proposals At Chicago

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt's suggestion that an international "quarantine" be imposed on those nations that threaten war was attacked today by Rep.
Hamilton Fish (R) New York, as
"virtually a call to war."

"The President's speech at Chicago yesterday was the most provocative, inflammatory and dangerous ever delivered by any American President," Fish said. "It may be interpreted by some as an act of peace,
but it was virtually a call to war."
Fish urged the United States to "keep out of foreign blood feuds and boundary disputes and mind
our own business."

Praise Speech
Meanwhile Senators Thomas (D)
Utah, Reynolds (D) North Carolina,
and Rep. Jenckes (D) Indiana, praised the President's speech, as did Dr. C. T. Wang, Chinese ambassador.

Citizens Plan To Volunteer Chest Pledges On Saturday

Saturday, October 9, is the day
New Castle citizens will get their biggest chance to reduce the customary expenses of a Community Chest campaign.

For on that day—"Volunteer a Subscription Day"—residents will be invited to make volunteer pledges for the 1937 Chest fund. Their willing gifts will save the campaign workers hunting them later for subscriptions. It's something new in local Chest circles.

Announced yesterday by Chest leaders, the plan to seek community support in a primary "volunteer-

your-pledge" day won the whole-hearted backing of civic leaders today. They voiced praise for the idea and declared it should save the Chest money.

subscriptions are to be made, a com-

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 6.—
President Roosevelt returned to his startling Chicago speech warning

Cables from foreign chancelleries

"undeclared war" and those which are "fomenting and taking sides in

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—In a terse

Reacting swiftly to the chief ex-making commitments impossible of

The foreign office spoke of the

Italians Almost Ignore Address Made At Chicago

(International News Service)

ROME, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt's speech condemning an "epidemic of world lawlessness" was almost ignored by Italian newspapers —indicating indignation of the Rome government over the American chief executive's remarks.

Papers barely mentioned the speech, devoting only five lines of type to it on the back pages. All sections that might have been interpreted as criticism of Italy were omitted.

Unofficial comment was to the effect the American president has a "one-sided" view of the European question.

Italian circles also were annoyed
by what they regarded as an implied threat the United States would abandon her isolationist policies and join other nations in concerted application of penalties—such as League of Nations sanctions—against "aggressors."

All CIO candidates for common

The final election, with the $15-

Japan's Reply To Roosevelt's Speech

Foreign Office Attitude Given

Spokesman Declares Nippon Wants Only "Peaceful Development" Of Asiatic Continent

JAPAN MUST HAVE ROOM FOR PEOPLE

By JAMES R. YOUNG

International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt's dramatic plea for cessation of "international anarchy" today brought from an official Japanese spokesman a statement that Nippon wants only "peaceful development" of the Asiatic continent.

In a direct reply to the American president's address at Chicago the foreign office spokesman here spoke at length to correspondents on Japan's purposes in the Sino-Japanese war.

"Japan's only demand," he said, "is that her people should be entitled to the freedom of movement and happiness which is rightfully theirs."

"Japan's intention is to carry on peaceful development of the Asiatic continent not for the sake of the happiness of Japanese alone, but also for the Chinese people."

Blames China.

"What Japan wants is peaceful co-operation between China and Japan, but China refused with armed force, resulting in the present affair."

"We are confident in thinking the people of China realize the true intentions of Japan and mutual aid and cooperation for the peace of eastern Asia and the world."

"The world was created for mankind," the spokesman continued in philosophic tones. "Therefore all industrious and honest people have a right to live anywhere and pursue their rightful liberty and happiness."

Population Too Great.

"But when one group of people is living in happiness with an amassed fortune on one hand, and on the other hand a group of people—honest and industrious—is denied such happiness from life, there can be no greater injustice imaginable."

"The population of Japan is crammed into a limited area and has more than doubled in the past half century. If Japan wants to send her people abroad, all outlets are denied them by foreign countries. The law excluding Japanese was enacted by the United States in 1924 against the natural law of mankind. This is greatly deplored by the Japanese people."

The spokesman added that such a situation, in the Japanese view, is bound to lead to trouble. He declared:

"If the 'haves' refuse to concede rightful demands to the 'have-nots' peace may be most difficult to maintain."

take a leading part in assembling a conference of those "peace-loving" nations to demand that the international agitators respond to the cardinal necessity of honoring sanctity of treaties, of respecting the rights and liberties of others and of putting an end to international aggression."

During the course of his tour, the president determined to call a special session of congress next month for the purpose of reviving crop control, and hour-wage legislation—despite earlier nullification by the supreme court in the AAA and NRA cases.

He returned today from a 13-day swing to the Pacific coast in which 6,000 miles were canvassed by his 10-car special train and another 1,000 by automobile, confident that the country still stands behind him.

President Roosevelt terminated his "intake" tour at Hyde Park rather than Washington in order to greet his 83-year-old mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, who yesterday completed a three-months' tour of Europe.

The executive's stay at "Krum Elbow" was to be of short duration, however. Thursday night he will head back to Washington.

One of the first things on his schedule Friday morning is a conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull for the measuring of international reaction to his militant peace address. This will be followed by a series of conferences looking toward his impending call of a special session of congress.

Maybe the President is wise in starting another domestic quarrel. With something else to argue about, people won't get war on the mind.

Children in some schools are organizing "traffic courts." Those caught jay walking, "hitching" rides on motor cars, riding double on bicycles and committing other "offenses" are summoned to appear before the traffic court which passes on their sentences to do some kind of work around the school house or playgrounds. This plan makes sport of a campaign which can be exceedingly effective. The lessons the children learn in their "court" will remain with them.

Mr. Boak, in speaking of the grange's stand, emphasized that politics hasn't anything to do with it.

"President Hoover attempted to regulate wheat, you'll recall" he pointed out.

N. C. NURSES ALUMNAE ENTERTAINS GRADUATES

Thermometers were forgotten Tuesday evening, for a certain group of professional women, the Alumnae nurses of the New Castle Hospital who entertained at a dance for the 1937 graduating nurses class in the Castleton hotel ballroom.

The occasion proved one of the most delightful undertaken by the organization, which was attended by fifty or more young couples. Dancing was in vogue from 9 o'clock until midnight, with a prominent orchestra providing the program of music. The ballroom was cleverly decorated in keeping with the autumnal motif, set off with lighting effects.

An added feature, was the floor show presented later in the evening with local entertainers participating. Miss Billie Glenn, who gave a novelty rhythm tap solo, presented two of her students, Miss Rosemary Place, who pleased with an acrobatic number, and Miss Mae Stineola She contributed a vocal selection. Adding variety, Miss Billie Jean Seal, student of Miss Nellie Brady, delighted with a Russian dance solo. All performers were well received by the assemblage.

Climaxing festivities, a door prize was awarded to Mrs. A. Acquaviva. The committee responsible for the success of the occasion, composed Miss Blanche Guinagh, Miss Angela Barnes, Miss Frances Wallas, and Mrs. Clara Groucutt.

LESSON IN INDUSTRIAL PEACE

AN OLD established and most admirable custom of the railroads and their employees of settling their mutual affairs without resort to strikes or lockouts has again been exemplified by the new wage agreement with the operating brotherhoods affecting 250,000 workers. It is estimated that the average 6.6 per cent increase will cost the railroads between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 a year.

In August the 750,000 members of the fifteen non-operating brotherhoods received a slightly smaller increase from the 86 Class I railroads. In view of these mounting costs, the carriers are seeking an increase in freight rates. Eastern railroads, with the exception of the Baltimore and Ohio and allied lines, are reported to be moving for higher passenger rates on the ground that the two-cent basic mileage has proved non-profitable.

The problem of getting the railroads back on their feet still awaits a solution which will help to promote general recovery. But they are fortunate in not having to contend with the labor troubles that have beset so many lines of industry. For this immunity managements and men may thank the Railroad Labor Act, which for more than a decade has functioned successfully.

Resort was had in this latest instance to the National Mediation Board, although in the large majority of cases settlements have been effected without calling upon the official machinery. There is a lesson for industry and labor as a whole in the remark of Dr. Leiserson, of the Mediation Board, that "the spirit in which the two sides to the controversy receded from their original positions... facts were the biggest factor in the settlement."

The men originally asked a 20 per cent increase. The managements were averse to granting any increase. The employees cited the higher costs of living and other factors in support of their case. The roads presented figures showing the greatly increased expense of operations and the steady inroads being made upon their revenues by competitive forms of transportation. The compromise arrived at represents, as the official mediator says, a spirit of mutual good will and co-operation highly gratifying to the general public upon which the prosperity of the railroads and their employees depends.

Whereas the Wagner Labor Relations Act, with its judicious provisions, has been a fount of disputes and an excuse for many one-sided decisions, the Railroad Labor Law has been a potent preserver of peace.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

AN AMERICAN PERSONALITY

Ed Howe was an American personality. The Sage of Potato Hill, now dead at 84 was characteristically himself, as individual as the midwest area that produced him. Best known of American "country editors," Ed made the Atchison Globe an institution, made it a profitable enterprise, then sold it to its employees for a song because he couldn't be bothered by people who wanted to know why their paper hadn't been delivered or why he wrote as he did.

For 22 years after his "retirement" Ed wrote the entire contents of E. W. Howe's Monthly, and it gained a national circulation and wide reputation for its aversion to hypocrisy, especially political hypocrisy. Ed believed—in his old-fashioned way—that to have money or to amount to anything an individual must work. He was, perhaps, the nation's greatest liberal, because he believed in the early American liberalism of every man doing as he pleased, as long as he didn't kill anybody.

EXAGGERATION

Kathleen Norris, famed authoress of more than half a hundred books, recalls her brother's enthusiasm when, as a lad of 14 years, he came home one day to tell his mother about the telephone, then in the early stages of its development—in the 1890's.

The boy predicted spiritedly that when large hotels would be built, there would be a telephone on the first floor and also one on the top floor, "so that folks won't have to go all the way down to the first floor to answer the phone."

"And that son," cautioned Mr. Norris' mother, "is the kind of exaggeration which makes the world laugh at you."

But men young in mind will always dream dreams and see visions. Some of them will be quixotic without a doubt. But some will not. And wise men will ponder long before they scorn "exaggeration."

Is the prediction that some day war will be outmoded and nations will settle differences around a conference table? Is the guess that in years ahead employers and employees will solve their problems without recourse to strikes, blacklists and lockouts more chimerical than the "exaggeration" of the young chemist who saw aluminum in clay?

NATURE UNLEASHED

Floods succeeding drought in the corn country may cause wonder at the extremes of capricious nature, but there is close correlation between the dust storms denuding farms of topsoil and raging rivers which submerge whole communities. Both are, in the cataclysmic effects, the direct result of man's interference with natural balances.

Miles upon square miles of farmlands were once covered with tough turf, rank prairie vegetation and forests. When the months passed without rain this growth conserved the moisture in the ground and anchored the topsoil to the terrain. When rain fell, the matted shrubs and grasses sponged up the waters. Then came a generation of plowmen who ripped up the turf, powdered the soil and in search of wealth prepared for disaster. Hot, dry winds whirl up the plowed soil to darken cities a thousand miles distant and downpours of rain course off the baked subsoil to wreak havoc in the valleys far distant. We are seeing in the West today the same accented forces which made vast habitable reaches of China a desert, which cause the periodic, death-dealing floods in the Yangtze, Kiang and Hoang Ho.

But if nature is unconquerable, so is man unconquerable. He can correct his mistakes and surely will. By impounding flood water, terracing his farms with an eye to wind and weather, planting cover crops and even, perhaps, abandoning to wilderness again some of the land he claimed, balance will be restored to the natural order of things. Wind and water erosion are creeping cancers, swift to spread to healthy territory.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHY SOME FOLK FAIL

A good many thousand parents have their hearts set on the success of a son or daughter entering college. Whereas most parents will realize their hopes, a few, alas, will be sadly disappointed. I have often tried to put myself, in my imagination, in the place of the parent so disappointed, wondering how I would feel and act if I were they. Also I have tried to take the place of the student who fails. Under what conditions will he fail? Under what will he succeed?

Among the factors essential to success at college are: (a) Good physical and mental health; (b) adequate mental ability; (c) good methods of study; (d) good habits of hard mental work (industry). In the latter are involved basic elements of character, such as ability to plan and stick to the plan—good self-management and self-discipline.

According to the testimony of many college deans, the chief cause of college failure is one of character—failure to work hard enough. How some college students will waste their time and burn up their energies in having what they call a good time! A few, however, fail because they study too hard, not getting adequate recreation and relaxation. Also a few spend too much time at jobs trying to keep soul and body together, lacking time and energy for study. And then some just don't have college "brains."

Why Some Fail

Recent studies of laggards at college reveal that a surprisingly large number fail because they had never learned to read well and get meaning effectively from the printed page. Some of these are salvaged. Perhaps they had not learned to classify and organize what they read, nor to get at the basic items of the paragraph, note or chapter, nor to use a reference book.

Whereas poor physical and mental health may be the leading cause of failure in some students, low degree of learning achievement also may induce physical illness and especially mental illness. Fortunately, there are a few colleges and universities that are checking more and more carefully each year on the health of their students, mental and physical, though not very many college professors seem to have awareness or concern about this matter. Students who find themselves worrying more than usual, rarely relaxing, and sleeping poorly, should consult a psychiatrist, after they have been carefully checked by a regular doctor.

In that splendid book, "Planning for College," by Max McCoon, is a good chapter entitled, "Planning to Make the Most of It."

All Of Us

HUSBANDS IN HOSPITALS

All wives agree that husbands in hospitals are pathetic spectacles. I do not mean sick husbands in hospitals. I refer to the husbands who pay visits when their wives are there.

There has been a baby, or a minor operation. The wife is seriously ill, but she can't go home until she is stronger. In comes the husband—cheerful, valiant and solicitous.

He's slightly uneasy, but he comes in boldly.

"Well, how ARE you, dear?" "Dear," is feeling fine. "That's grand, we'll have you home before you know it. Or, 'How's the baby?" The baby is well. "That's great, isn't it? When will the nurse bring him in?" Not until 10 o'clock, said look. Silent mental calculation of three hours.

Then more questions about "how are you feeling?" Then wriggles. Then more conversation—about what happened at the office or in the shop—and how well he's getting along at home—and she mustn't worry about him—though he's lonesome without her.

Then he gets warm—why is it always so hot in a hospital?—and the chair is uncomfortable—why are hospital chairs so often like that?

He picks up a magazine. He asks who sent those flowers. He wriggles some more. He walks about the room. He looks out the window. He sits down. He talks some more. He goes out for a smoke. He comes back. He wonders whether he can't take a peek at the baby in the nursery. He takes a peek. He comes back and talks about the baby. And wriggles some more.

And AT LAST his wife takes pity on him and tells him he must go home. He had a hard day. He must get some sleep. He protests faintly, but she overrules him. And at last he does go. He bends over the bed—he kisses her tenderly—says he'll see her tomorrow—goes to the door—shuts it very quietly—sighs faintly and, "feeling like a dog," goes home to his dark and lonely house.

The best way to show your patriotism for your home city is to support, as well as you can afford, the things that makes your city great and a good place to live in. The Community Chest drive is around the corner.

Compared to the wrinkles in a piano accordion, those in a linen suit make it look sick.

And by the way there is another street in front of a fine school house in the city that is not paved. It is the Oak street school. Why are streets in front of fine public schools in New Castle left in the mud?

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

Two assistants were discussing their jobs.

"You mean to tell me you work until 8 o'clock every night?" "Why, I wouldn't think of doing that."

"I wouldn't either," came the reply. "It was the boss' idea."

Heard at the Howdy club dance: "How nice and soft the floor is." "It's not the floor—you are dancing on my feet."

And by the way what terrible streets we have to go over to get into any cemetery in New Castle. Country cemeteries have fine roads leading right up to their entrances.

The voters of this county sure have had plenty of notice to get registered. We hope they will not regret this neglect later.

The World At A Glance

When Duke And Duchess Arrive.
State Department On Alert.
Must Not Offend Great Britain.By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

WHEN THE Duke and Duchess of Windsor come to the United States, the state department will need all the diplomacy at its command.

Anything betokening a formal greeting will be resented by the British government.

Anything less than a cordial welcome will be resented by the American people.

Will the Duke and Duchess call on the Roosevelt at the White House? That would be tactless.

Yet what will the American people say if President Roosevelt does not somehow say a word to the Duke?

It all seems like a lot of pother over nothing. We in the United States are not supposed to look upon a man other than as a plain human being. We don't believe in royalty. Oh, yes?

HOW HELL COME

The Duke will come as a private citizen. He is nothing more. He expects no official greeting. So far so good. But a large part of the American people will hooah so much that wherever he appears there will be an official aspect.

Mayors and minor politicians will go along with the crowd, offering words of welcome, keys to cities, gifts, etc. And by-and-by some body, lit up by the occasion, will exclaim, "What did the English mean by turning out a king like this fellow just because he married an American woman?"

You can imagine how the state department will feel just about this time.

Then, the Duke—who is coming over to study "housing conditions" and "the conditions of workers," you know—probably will be invited to attend a labor gathering with a strong Irish accent. And you can imagine what the British Tory government will be thinking just about that time.

In fact, the Duke's entire communique concerning his proposed visit to the United States was considered an affront by the British Tory government. It smacked—to them—of inviting the Labor party in England to do its worst.

CROWDS!

Imagine the crowds that the Duke and Duchess will have to evade in the United States!

They probably will be taken off the incoming liner at Quarantine in New York harbor and rushed via tug to a waiting private car on a Jersey siding. Otherwise, there hardly would be police enough in New York to hold back the crowds.

In Baltimore, the Duke and Duchess probably will be secluded on an estate. (The Duchess' old home now is a "museum" of wax figures, operated for profit by a private enterprise.)

It is when the Duke tires of the estate and desires to see the "housing" or a show or a night club that the crowd trouble will begin.

INVITATIONS

The Duchess will have invitations by the thousands.

Withal, she may not have the few she exactly desires—the few from the American "aristocrats."

Nevertheless, here she is with the man who stepped down from the greatest throne on earth, all for her.

Here she is, cinderella girl made good in a big way.

Here she is, with all the latest Parisian gowns.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received a subpoena in divorce to be served on the respondent in the divorce case of Margaret Weddell against Thomas Weddell, which is to be tried in the Allegheny county courts during the present month.

A scire facias to revive a judgment has been filed at the prothonotary's office in the case of Mrs. D. A. Wright against Mrs. Mae Brington and George B. Brinton. The amount of the claim is $2,200.

County commissioners are anxious to have the plans approved at Harrisburg for the proposed remodeling the front end of the court house to provide them with a room before cold weather sets in. Already they are annoyed by draughts through the corridor which they are now occupying as an office. The plans have already been approved by a grand jury and the court, and only await the approval of the planning commission at Harrisburg.

In the estate of the late Michael Burick of Wayne township letters of administration have been issued by Register and Recorder, William R. Hanna to Frank Burick. Other letters issued are as follows: Letters testamentary in the estate of the late William J. Skiles of this city, to Attorney Gilbert E. Long; Letters testamentary in the estate of Catherine A. Miller of this city to Grace Perrell. Letters testamentary in the estate of Matthew Rowan to Thomas M. Donnelly.

Proposed changes and improvement in the Edenburg-Hillsville road appears to be at a standstill, pending further conferences between the county commissioners and the State Highway Department. The commissioners will probably make a visit to Harrisburg in an effort to get the state to agree to pay for an $18,000 bridge which the state now wants the county to pay for along with the real estate damage.

Some of the candidates at the recent primary have so far failed to file their expense accounts at the county commissioners office. The time limit will soon be up for filing these statements.

It is estimated that the cost of personal registration for the rural districts will cost more this year than it did when the work was done by registering assessors. The cost, however, is due largely to the additional equipment that has been installed in the registration bureau. Once the system is in regular working order, it is claimed that it will be a saving to the county. By another year it will be possible to give comparative costs.

County Commissioners Clerk, William A. Eakin, will start mapping out the ballots for the coming November election as soon as the official count is completed. Nothing can be done toward the preparation of the ballots until the official board reports, although it is known who are to be the candidates for the city and county offices. It will take the official count to determine who are candidates in some of the townships and boroughs.

TELLS OF HER QUICK RELIEF FROM SOUR UPSET STOMACH

Attractive Young High School Girl Says A Few Weeks Treatment Of Vendol, The New Root, Herb And Alkaline Medicine Relieved Nervousness, Dizzy Feeling, Indigestion And Other Troubles Due To Constipation.

If anyone who reads this needs a reliable medicine to relieve stomach disorders, sluggish liver or to quiet the nerves, because constipation has a grip on them, they should not delay seeing the Vendol Man at New Castle Drug Co., where he is introducing this medicine, and let him explain all about it and how it is doing so much good in New Castle and the surrounding neighborhood.

Read the experience of Miss Rheta Morrell, graduate of Rayen High School, who says:

"My food digested poorly, seemed to lay heavy in my stomach, turn sour, ferment and fill me with gas. The gas pressed around my heart so bad that to climb stairs caused hard breathing and palpitation. I often had to stop to catch my breath."

"I felt bilious, tongue was coated, had headaches and spells of dizziness. I had tried various medicines but couldn't tell they helped me much, therefore, when Vendol came I felt so much better. Local Mayor Tells About
"Selling New Castle";
Large Crowd Present

"Selling New Castle" was the title of the interesting address delivered by Mayor Charles McGrath to South Side merchants, Tuesday evening in the office of Eighth Ward Alderman B. J. Biondi, East Long avenue.

A crowd that over taxed the capacity of the alderman's office heard the comprehensive address. The mayor urged the support of the citizenry in selling New Castle to outsiders. He also told about the advancement of the city. His address was thoroughly enjoyed by the large group.

The merchants also voted unanimously in favor of standard closing hours of stores in that district. The new closing hours went into effect recently and the group met for the purpose of making arrangements to enforce the closing hours.

a value of almost $50,000 with maintenance and running expenses of about $18,000 annually.

Roof fires have long been the bane of rural homes far from organized fire fighters as in the hamlet of Corbiel, where live the Dionnes. Especially has that been true in the Ontario country where spark yielding fuel has been almost universally used. The Dionne "quins" are protected from this fire danger in the nursery by fire-resisting asphalt on which no errant spark can make trouble. The shingles of a cherry red hue lighten the somewhat drab landscape, blend pleasingly with the brown log siding and fit admirably into the wise attempts of Dr. Dafoe to make life for the "quins" a safe, colorful and happy adventure. All three official buildings of the Dionne group, the nursery, the hospital, and the staff house are roofed with these colorful fire-resistant asphalt shingles.

As befits five young women of three years of age whose earnings in the first two years of their lives totalled $50,000, all equipment in the little group of buildings is similarly selected for safety, brightness and efficiency. The use of color within the nursery has been the result of study by experts in the child mind. The Board of Guardians set up by the Dominion of Canada has spared no pains to provide for the future of the "quins" in rest, celebration, in the use of music and French which is regular, but not taxing, and is designated for natural, normal growth. And that will be the task of Dr. Dafoe and Canada until the girls are eighteen years of age.

Then they'll start to do their own worry; about the income taxes.

Membership In Klan Is Costly

Writer Asserts Black's Membership In Hooded Order Will Make Him Marked Man

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES F. STEWART
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—If ever a man was sorry for having done a thing before he was mature enough to know better Justice Hugo L. Black of the federal supreme court undoubtedly is entitled to consideration for the grand prize as that sort of an individual.

He does not say he was sorry that he joined the Ku Klux Klan a decade and a half ago, when he was in his comparatively youthful mid-30's. But gosh! How sorry he MUST be!

EXPEDIENCY THEN
Unquestionably it seemed to Black, back in the early 1920's, as if it were a mere matter of local political expediency to become a Kluxer in a community where the Klan was overwhelmingly strong, and where he probably thought that it always would be.

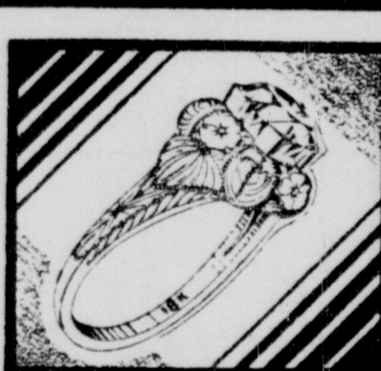

He had not had much experience then and did not realize that such movements are ephemeral.

Anyway, how could he have foreseen, at that time, that his relatively juvenile Klan membership would be nationally remembered against him so many years later?

UNDER STRESS

The affair is no temporary incident, regardless of the fact that Black is practically sure to spend the remainder of his life on the supreme bench, up to retirement age. Sentimentally speaking, his judicial career is blighted.

He never can figure as a jurist of generally recognized impartiality. If he is liberal, conservatives will charge that it is because he is at heart still a Klansman. If he is conservative, liberals will assert that this is proof of his reactionary Klannishness.

AS STEWART SEES IT

He got off to an abominably bad start, in short.

He seemed, candidly, to be ashamed of himself.

He dodged around Europe, avoiding interviews. On his way to make his decisive broadcast, he snatched it through a back alley and a cellar to the microphone.

Dignified? For a supreme court justice?

ANOTHER AGE

All this is not particularly germane, as lawyers express it. In other words, "What of it?" Lawyers cite precedents. They remark that Chief Justice Edward D. White of the federal supreme court (1910 to 1921) was a Kluxer in his youth.

But White was a Kluxer of the immediate post-Civil war period. His kind of Klux were as different from the more recent Klux as Black's name is from White.

The name is the same; nothing else.

State Sabbath School Convention To Take Place During Coming Week

The New Castle and Lawrence county delegates who will attend the Diamond Jubilee convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association to convene at Hershey, October 13, 14 and 15, will be part of a great host of Sunday school workers that will be one of the largest, if not the largest, ever assembled in Pennsylvania.

Main sessions, morning and evening, will be held in the great Ice Palace, one of the outstanding buildings of its type of architecture in the world. This building is being arranged to seat 7,500 delegates, and by Neil Williams, city registry clerk, to have cost $58,245, of which $21,385 was for new construction and $36,860 for remodeling.

Friends say the length of their stay in the United States will depend on how they are received by the American public.

If they are jostled, ogled, besieged for photographs and autographs and refused a chance for privacy, it was disclosed, they will cut short their stay in the United States and sail for Honolulu, where they plan to take up residence.

Meanwhile, while the Duke and Duchess still sought to keep as much as possible out of the limelight, the British old guard Tory circles began a campaign of criticism with assertions that the Duke's desire to study housing problems in Germany and the United States is "unfortunate."

Wrong Impression

They declare such activity might give foreigners a "wrong" impression of the real status of the Duke with relations to the British em-

declaring that the Duke will travel, wherever he goes, in the capacity of a "private" citizen.

The Duke and Duchess plan to leave Paris the end of this month.
They will first go to Germany for

Many Lutheran Pastors Gather

Every Clerical Charge Of West Conference Represented Here Tuesday

FALL CONVENTION IN LOCAL CHURCH

A perfect attendance, with representatives present from every Evangelical Lutheran parish in West Conference, and a program of an unusually inspirational nature made the fall convention in New Castle's St. Paul's church outstanding in West Conference history.

There were 30 pastors and a number of lay delegates present. Sessions were conducted morning, afternoon and evening, with the conference president, Rev. A. M. Stump of the host church, in charge. The convention theme was "An Effective Ministry" and the addresses were built around this theme.

Very little business was transacted. The sessions were almost entirely inspirational, and the speakers spoke on such subjects as "The Responsibility of the Pastor," "Pastoral Enrichment," "The Passions of the Church," and "A Program for the Parish." The delegates heard among others, Rev. O. W. Carlson of Butler, Rev. P. N. Schur of Freedom, and Rev. C. B. Foelsch,
D. D. of Sunbury.

Dr. Foelsch's final address of the convention, on "Forward Together," last night was a fitting climax to the splendid program.

The spring convention will take place at the First Lutheran church of Chicago, of which Rev. William H. Marburger is pastor. Election of officers will take place at that time.

Chinese Pastor To Speak Before Society Thursday

Chicago's Chinese Pastor, Rev.
Philip Lee, To Address

A special feature scheduled for members of the Women's Home

tist church, when they meet on Thursday afternoon, will be that they will be given the privilege of hearing as their guest speaker, the Rev. Philip Lee, pastor of the only Chinese church in Chicago's Chinatown.

This is the church, Miss Alice Snape has been affiliated with. She is the daughter of Dr. John Snape, a former pastor of this city, and has been interested in missionary work for a period of several years.

Rev. Lee speaks English fluently, and has a fine baritone voice.

The society, invites members and friends to attend on this occasion, and share in welcoming Rev. Lee on his visit to New Castle.

Governors Of Motor Club Protest Grade Crossing On Route

Meeting in the motor club headquarters in The Castleton hotel
Tuesday night the board of governors of the New Castle Motor club passed a resolution of protest against a grade crossing at Hillsville in the proposed new stretch of Route 224 which the state is planning to build.

Members of the board who had investigated the condition reported that a switching line crossed the right of way near Hillsville and that the approaches to the crossing were on grades. The resolution was passed and will be sent to the highway department.

Crooks Are No Longer In Light

Those Who Have Survived Gang Wars Get Chilly Reception In Gay Places

NEW BRILLIANCY TEST IS CITED

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—There are few established crooks to be pointed out any more in the cafes and night clubs. Such as Dutch Schultz, Legs Diamond and a dozen more. Those who have not been taken for the inevitable ride have found reception in the gay places chilly.

O. O. McIntyre, an ex-crook, was backed by the O'neill Maddens. Gangster ownership had a special thrill for customers.

The fact is, too, that the racket business in New York has reached its lowest ebb. Thanks to the vigilance of Prosecutor Dewey, the biggest of the vice czars are either in prison or foreign lands fighting desperately to prevent extradition. The mob no longer jells.

The biggest problem the police now face in organized crime is among the hoodlums. The street corner toughs who hang about the Coffee Pots and rob the weak through sheer force of numbers. Most of them starch their courage with shots of heroin before raiding.

Over the coffee cups at Lee O'wells the other night the big shot of a major industry told of four women holding responsible positions in his outfit who had been selected by him by a rather strange method. All brunettes, their hair is feathered with a streak of white like a cockatoo's plume. One of the most capable women he knew as an aspiring young man was so marked. He does not profess to know nor can he find any scientific reason, but he believes that every woman so distinguished bears the brand of genius. Each one in his employ is paid more than $12,000 a year. He says the first lady U. S. President will be so plumed.

Style note: The newest in high evening hats is a midget affair with a crown half the height of the usual high hat. They are reported ducky for the limousine trade where high-hats are battered terrifically getting in and out of automobiles. As might be expected, the first wearer was the journalistic dude, Lucius Beebe. Probably beating Roy Howard by an eyelash.

As one of the ardent color hounds, I can cheer, too, for the dash to mufflers this season. I've often thought the muffler, knotted just so by the accomplished mufflerists, was just as dressy as the monocle. The boys toddling over from England—such as Tom Webster, Jack Buchanan and Wodehouse—have been exploiting some screams from the spectrum that are beauts. Wet grass green speckled with white dots. Schiaparelli, pink with streaks of vivid red, yellow and brown in big blocks and coal black with lightning zig-zags of snow white.

When the young gals everywhere with fancy kerchiefs tied around their heads in the manner of the gypsy. This vogue had a mushroom growth—practically over night—and came from the French Riviera. It only takes some Barbara Stanwyck or Gloria Baker to appear at The Stork Club once in such get-ups and the craze is on. Barbara Hutton, before she went completely royal was quite a style setter for youngsters. Let her sashay through an aisle to her ringside seat at the Casino in something a bit different and the girls would be popping into the Paradise with a version almost like it next evening. Style thieves, stationed at vantage points, work fast and furiously. Every day at luncheon a group of them will be seen loitering around the entrance of The Colony. Just now they keep their eyes peeled for Mrs. Byron Foy among the matrons and Eleanor Young among the debutantes. They set the pace in their divisions. I don't know who is the style setter for men, but until I know positively I'll continue to get my bearings from William Rhineland Stewart.

I got to chucking today over the story Bob Davis used to tell in his Munsey days about the rebuke of an employer to his employee. The head of a law firm had sent a young attorney to interview an important client in a nearby town. Next day he received this. "Have forgotten name of client. Please wire at once." The reply: "The client's name is Whitehead. Your name is Burke."

Churches And Homes Remembered In Will

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 6.—The will of Charles Ruhe, city clerk for 23 years, filed today for probate, shows bequests to many local hospitals, and charities and his church. The residue of the estate, estimated at $80,000 is divided between Albert Ruhe, a nephew of this city, and a niece, Lida Ruhe Lutz, of Swissvale. The Christ Evangelical church of this city was left a bequest of $12,000, and $2,000 was left to the city to provide a nucleus for a playground.

Thiel College, Greenville was given $2,000 and the Old People's Home and the Orphan's Home in Zelienople were left $2,000 each.

After his coupe was alleged to have crashed into a machine driven by a New Castle man, Clyde Lisbon of Slippery Rock R. D. 1 was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor in Butler county. State Motor Policeman R. E. Barry said Lisbon's coupe was being driven on the wrong side of the Perry highway near Middle Lancaster when it hit and damaged a machine driven by J. P. Walters of 1041 Rose avenue, New Castle, Saturday night.

A Mrs. Winterfield of Wampum was slightly injured and her two children, the only other occupants of the car, shaken but unhurt Sunday when their machine hit a pole on Fourth avenue, College Hill. The wheels had skidded on the street car tracks.

Adult Education Fall Program Scheduled In Three Local Schools

Works Progress Administration Adult Education Leaders will open the fall program October 11 at three city schools. These centers are available through the courtesy of the New Castle School Board and the co-operation of Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools.

Literacy classes will be held at North street, Lincoln-Garfield and Mahoningtown schools. In these classes, men and women wishing to become citizens may learn to read and write. They will also be instructed in citizenship. This course has become very important due to the fact that most employers require evidence of citizenship before hiring people for various occupations. Corrective English, Literature, Commercial Geography, Current Events, Public Speaking, Dramatics, Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Office Practice, Handicraft and Art are embraced in the program outlined.

Special emphasis will be placed on spelling and several spelling contests will be conducted.

At a later date the schedules will be posted. Most of these classes will be held in the evening.

Those desirous of entering these classes, which are free to all, may register during the coming week beginning October 11 at North street, Lincoln-Garfield and Mahoningtown schools.

More Piracy On Mediterranean

(International News Service)

TANGIER, Oct. 6.—A hint of another outbreak of piracy on the Mediterranean was received here today in a mysterious, incomplete radio message picked up by the local station. The message read:

"Insurgents are obliging us to go to Palma. Our position at 10 p. m. was 39.38 north, 2.00 east."

The message, which did not give the name of the ship, was signed: "Captain Cassidaige."

There was no way of identifying the sender of the message here.

Noted Here And There In Other Newspapers

Five men, all of them from Ellwood City, were injured in an automobile smash-up on the Darlington-Beaver Falls road Sunday morning. The machine left the highway and upset after crashing into a bank. Four of those hurt, Anthony Stevens, 20, of 2531 Fourteenth street, the driver; James Gibbons, 20, of Ellwood R. D. 2; James Sheeler, 22, of Ellwood Box 403, and Ralph Gibbons, 22, Ellwood R. D. 2, were able to return home after emergency treatment, but Ugo Barsottini, 24, of 1200 Beaver avenue, was in a more serious condition and is still a patient in Providence hospital, Beaver Falls.

An Arkansas City man brought three pairs of trousers into a tailor shop and sadly asked if they could be repaired. He said he and his wife had had an argument over whether he should go out one evening. She won by taking the scissors and snipping off the legs of all his dress trousers!

Rev. O. B. Emerson was returned to the Methodist Episcopal charge in Ellwood City when appointments were read at the closing session of Pittsburgh conference in Wilkinsburg. Other appointments of interest here: Chippewa-Clinton charge, Rev. W. W. Wells; Koppel, J. S. Spangler; Wurttemberg, H. F. Pollock, and Zelienople-Harmony, W. W. Patch.

Thieves apparently took a sign on a Seattle tavern at its face value. The sign reads "Do Drop Inn". A quantity of wine, punch board prizes and $20 were taken after the prowlers "dropped in" through a skylight in the building.

"Hickory, dickory, dock! The mouse ran up the clock. . . ." The mouse does run up the clock, two inches every two minutes, strikes a bell which releases it and thus marks another quarter hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Whitten, 3726 Glenwood avenue, Youngstown, O. The clock is not a plaything. It is a tall old mahogany timepiece with a cat and another mouse crouching over the top, and with weights in the form of ears of corn with husks. The Whittens have 65 clocks collected by Mr. Whitten over a period of nearly 40 years. It's a hobby.

Adult Education Fall Program Scheduled In Three Local Schools

Works Progress Administration Adult Education Leaders will open the fall program October 11 at three city schools. These centers are available through the courtesy of the New Castle School Board and the co-operation of Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools.

Literacy classes will be held at North street, Lincoln-Garfield and Mahoningtown schools. In these classes, men and women wishing to become citizens may learn to read and write. They will also be instructed in citizenship. This course has become very important due to the fact that most employers require evidence of citizenship before hiring people for various occupations. Corrective English, Literature, Commercial Geography, Current Events, Public Speaking, Dramatics, Typing, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Office Practice, Handicraft and Art are embraced in the program outlined.

Special emphasis will be placed on spelling and several spelling contests will be conducted.

At a later date the schedules will be posted. Most of these classes will be held in the evening.

Those desirous of entering these classes, which are free to all, may register during the coming week beginning October 11 at North street, Lincoln-Garfield and Mahoningtown schools.

More Piracy On Mediterranean

(International News Service)

TANGIER, Oct. 6.—A hint of another outbreak of piracy on the Mediterranean was received here today in a mysterious, incomplete radio message picked up by the local station. The message read:

"Insurgents are obliging us to go to Palma. Our position at 10 p. m. was 39.38 north, 2.00 east."

The message, which did not give the name of the ship, was signed: "Captain Cassidaige."

There was no way of identifying the sender of the message here.

Five men, all of them from Ellwood City, were injured in an automobile smash-up on the Darlington-Beaver Falls road Sunday morning. The machine left the highway and upset after crashing into a bank. Four of those hurt, Anthony Stevens, 20, of 2531 Fourteenth street, the driver; James Gibbons, 20, of Ellwood R. D. 2; James Sheeler, 22, of Ellwood Box 403, and Ralph Gibbons, 22, Ellwood R. D. 2, were able to return home after emergency treatment, but Ugo Barsottini, 24, of 1200 Beaver avenue, was in a more serious condition and is still a patient in Providence hospital, Beaver Falls.

An Arkansas City man brought three pairs of trousers into a tailor shop and sadly asked if they could be repaired. He said he and his wife had had an argument over whether he should go out one evening. She won by taking the scissors and snipping off the legs of all his dress trousers!

Rev. O. B. Emerson was returned to the Methodist Episcopal charge in Ellwood City when appointments were read at the closing session of Pittsburgh conference in Wilkinsburg. Other appointments of interest here: Chippewa-Clinton charge, Rev. W. W. Wells; Koppel, J. S. Spangler; Wurttemberg, H. F. Pollock, and Zelienople-Harmony, W. W. Patch.

Thieves apparently took a sign on a Seattle tavern at its face value. The sign reads "Do Drop Inn". A quantity of wine, punch board prizes and $20 were taken after the prowlers "dropped in" through a skylight in the building.

It is a tall old mahogany timepiece with a cat and another mouse crouching over the top, and with weights in the form of ears of corn with husks. Fourteen Questions To Answer In Unemployment Census

President Sends Questionnaires

Thirty-One Million Families To Receive Card In National Census Move

QUESTIONS GIVEN ON CARD PRESENTED

By L. W. MEREDITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt today called upon every unemployed person and every part-time worker to answer fourteen questions for the National Unemployment census.

The questions were revealed by the national unemployment census administration, with a personal message from the president urging prompt replies. The questionnaires will be distributed by mail November 16 and 17.

On each questionnaire is printed: "A message from the president of the United States."

Addressed from "The White House, Washington," the president's message reads:

"If you are employed or partly employed, and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage stamp is needed.

"The census directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest and accurate. If you give me the facts I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it."

Franklin D. Roosevelt.

To Reach 31,000,000 Families
The questionnaires will be sent to about 31,000,000 families. Specifically included among those listed as "unemployed" or "partly unemployed."

Indications are that the city may be required to pay for damages to automobiles which strike a tree, reported by police to be 18 inches in the cartway of North Beaver street between Falls and Grant streets, unless the situation is remedied, and it is probable that city fathers will take steps to bring this about. The city, in the past, has held that when an auto was damaged and the city had no knowledge prior to a report, that the city was not liable. Inasmuch as two reports have been made concerning the particular tree, elimination of the hazard is expected. It is possible that the tree doctor, Owen Fox, may be called into action to alleviate the situation yet save the tree. There also is a tree in Highland avenue that bulges from the curb into the cartway.

Police are called upon to perform various duties, in fact, at times become jack of all trades. They serve documents for the city solicitor's office and time has been when cars have been used to haul books around. They act as ambulance drivers, keep cars from following fire apparatus enroute to blazes and adjust family controversies without arrest, if possible.

It is likely that police officials will, in the not distant future, give some attention to North Hill thoroughfares in the vicinity of the Cathedral. According to reports, fire equipment enroute to a blaze may be held up if parking continues on both sides of some of the streets. Two passenger cars can pass with parking on both sides, but not fire-trucks, according to reports.

Consolidation of Shenango and New Castle Works storehouses combining of inventories of both plants—A. E. Fraser, storekeeper, George Seamans, assistant storekeeper.

ALWAYS READY

At New Castle Works we have an emergency hospital in which we believe we are justified in taking a great deal of pride. Our hospital is in charge of a surgeon and three registered nurses, a nurse being on duty each hour of the twenty-four, and it is equipped with every modern facility approved by medical science for the purpose for which it is maintained.

As at all other plants of our corporation, at ours, safety is of primary importance, and though it is an established fact that our men are safer at their work here, than at any other plant, accidents will sometimes occur and the knowledge that we have such an institution, always ready, imbues our men with a feeling of security.

THIS OUGHT TO BE GOOD

The City Hunting Club—members Harry Cramer, power house, engineer, Robert Fleming, assistant millwright foreman, A. L. Boalick, hot mill roller, James Cypher, pay-

Boys intend to hunt bear and deer this season. Ed. Raney, timekeeper and W. P. Lohman, master mechanic will be visitors or guests of the camp.

Last season, the Tin City club secured three bucks (deer) and hope to do as well or better this year. What the boys really want is a bear. Robert Fleming enjoys the distinction of being the biggest eater on this side of the mountain and some of the boys are out to lift his toga, if they can.

Americanism: Keeping out paupers and idiots from Europe: allowing the weak-minded to produce more here at home.

Four Lawrence County girls, Yolanda Bully and Rose Donofrio of New Castle, Nellie Orabiko of Bessemer and Pauline Keul of Ellwood

City have returned to their homes following the closing of the Warren, Pa., camp of the National Youth Administration Girls' camp.

Two girls, Jennie Boron and Anne Sams, both from New Castle, remained to assist the Camp Staff in after closing duties. These girls expected to return home October 9th.

Each girl had opportunities for a valuable work experience. Classes were also set up for the girls where they were able to improve their educational background.

Ten hours of work each week was required of every girl in camp. The making of tennis nets, seats for chairs and visual aids for schools were among the most interesting of the work projects. A display of the work done on these projects was sent to Harrisburg for the recent Educational Conference. Much interest was aroused. Among this group as to just what N. Y. A. can do for our schools to assist in Education and Recreation.

Courses in Home Economics, waitress training, commercial subjects, dramatics, handicraft, sewing, biology and academic subjects gave a wide range of choice for each girl for her hours of vocational training.

The Lawrence County girls were given places of responsibility in many instances and return to their homes much better fitted to take part in private and community life.

Indications are that the city may be required to pay for damages to automobiles which strike a tree, reported by police to be 18 inches in the cartway of North Beaver street between Falls and Grant streets, unless the situation is remedied, and it is probable that city fathers will take steps to bring this about. The city, in the past, has held that when an auto was damaged and the city had no knowledge prior to a report, that the city was not liable. Indications are that the city may be required to pay for damages to automobiles which strike a tree, reported by police to be 18 inches in the cartway of North Beaver street between Falls and Grant streets, unless the situation is remedied, and it is probable that city fathers will take steps to bring this about. The city, in the past, has held that when an auto was damaged and the city had no knowledge prior to a report, that the city was not liable. Inasmuch as two reports have been made concerning the particular tree, elimination of the hazard is expected. It is possible that the tree doctor, Owen Fox, may be called into action to alleviate the situation yet save the tree. There also is a tree in Highland avenue that bulges from the curb into the cartway.

Police are called upon to perform various duties, in fact, at times become jack of all trades. They serve documents for the city solicitor's office and time has been when cars have been used to haul books around. They act as ambulance drivers, keep cars from following fire apparatus enroute to blazes and adjust family controversies without arrest, if possible.

It is likely that police officials will, in the not distant future, give some attention to North Hill thoroughfares in the vicinity of the Cathedral. According to reports, fire equipment enroute to a blaze may be held up if parking continues on both sides of some of the streets. Two passenger cars can pass with parking on both sides, but not fire-trucks, according to reports.

Moral Support Of China

An air of enthusiasm over President Roosevelt's foreign policy statement resulting from the anticipated blow at Japan pervaded league circles as the assembly quickly rushed through the condemnatory resolution drafted by the 23-power committee on China.

The United States is also a member of that committee.

The smashing resolution practically recommends anti-Japanese sanctions in a negative form.

Through it 52 nations express their "moral support for China."

It recommends that "league members should refrain from taking any action which might have the effect of weakening China's power of resistance, thus increasing her difficulties in the present conflict."

The nations, it urged, "should also consider how far they can individually extend aid to China."

Roosevelt's Speech Has Effect

A much milder form of resolution had been projected by the Chinese committee of 23. But as soon as the context of President Roosevelt's speech became known here, the attitude of the British and other representatives on the committee stiffened.

Their immediate reaction was to insert the two clauses asserting their moral support for China and suggesting aid for Japan's enemy.

The signatories of the nine-power treaty of Washington, which guarantees the territorial integrity of China, were asked to meet "as soon as possible" with a view to ending the Sino-Japanese conflict by agreement.

HEAR EVIDENCE IN AUTO DEATH

son was traveling west on Washington street, and in attempting to pass three cars abreast near the intersection of Norris Way, swung to the left of the street and struck Layton. The handle of the door on the side of the car struck Layton, according to Stephenson.

Companions Testify

John Layton, of 929 Carson street, brother of the deceased; Michael Ralchford, of Atlantic avenue, and Samuel Walker, of 230 Vine street, testified that they had been in the Square Deal Lunch and had come out of the place and were preparing to cross the street just this side of Norris Way. They were standing abreast at or about the parking line, running parallel with the curb, which marks off the spaces at the parking meters, when the car driven by Stephenson whirled over to the left and struck Harry Layton, hurling him to the street.

Dr. James M. Popp testified that he had attended Layton in the hospital and that Layton had died about 5:15 p. m., September 26, of a fractured skull. X-rays revealed that he had multiple fractures of the frontal bone of the skull, nasal bone and bones of the face.

Charles Polen, Jr., of 1027 Croton avenue, testified that he was traveling west delivering groceries in a light truck. He had been forced to stop at Beaver street by the traffic light and had started west. As he got to Norris Way he stated that there was a line of cars parked at the curb and a car double parked, which he was forced to swing toward the center of the street to pass.

As he did so, he said Stephenson's car passed him and as it passed he heard a thud and thought his truck had been struck, but felt no jar from it.

Stephenson's car continued to pass, he stated, and then cut in ahead of him and parked at an angle in front of the P. and L. E. station, about 150 feet west of Norris Way. He pulled in alongside and as he did so the driver of the car got out and went back.

Polen stated that he was traveling at a speed of about 20 miles an hour. He thought the Stephenson car was going about 30 to 35 miles an hour.

Harry Young, of 623 Forest street, who was with Polen, corroborated Polen's story.

Stephenson Testifies

Ralph Valentino, of 1329 Croton avenue, told of being on Washington street, west of the point where Layton was struck, and of taking the injured man to the hospital. He heard the thud when Layton was struck but did not see the collision, he stated.

Stephenson stated that he also had stopped for the traffic light at Beaver street, and was following the delivery truck driven by Polen. About 50 feet beyond Beaver street he started to pass the truck. He stated that he did not see the men standing out in the street until just about onto them. There were three of them standing in the group, he stated.

He said he heard a thud and pulled around in front of the truck and stopped. He estimated his speed at around 30 miles an hour.

He said it was raining slightly but that the visibility was good. He said Layton was struck by the door handle on the left side of the car.

Oscar Thellman, of 408 West Washington street, stated that he was following the Stephenson car which was 100 to 150 feet ahead and estimated its speed at around 30 miles an hour.

The verdict of the jury was that "Harry Layton came to his death in the New Castle hospital about 5:15 p. m. September 26, 1937, of injuries received when struck by the automobile of Robert Stephenson on West Washington street, New Castle, Pa., about 12:30 a. m., on September 26, 1937."

GERMANY WARNS ROOSEVELT ABOUT WORLD PROGRAM

was issued to the press by the Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz, official news service of the foreign office.

Obviously inspired by the highest officials in the Nazi Reich, including Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler himself, the statement read:

"Mr. Roosevelt in a general way discussed the sanctity of treaties without defining which treaties correspond to the dictates of international justice and which do not."

"He referred to nations which violate treaties as aggressors against others which think only of their own defense."

"Without making satisfactory distinctions he avoided all reference to the role of Bolshevism and its threat against all nations and all peoples."

"All that Mr. Roosevelt has said so far does not suffice to differentiate between that which is good and that which is bad."

"But if the President is prepared to take on his own shoulders the responsibility for a new initiative in the world, he must keep in mind the shipwreck of his predecessor."

"He must be sure he not only is determined, but also that he has the strength to help justice become victorious in the world."

Germany cannot forget, the agency said, that Wilson's post-war initiative "failed to carry through" into the Versailles treaty principles of international law and moral rights he enunciated.

If President Roosevelt's words are to count as applying to Europe and the world, Germany, at least, the statement continued, "will have the right to expect him to take up where Wilson left off."

This was interpreted as a demand upon the President of the United States to condone Germany's casting off of the Versailles treaty shackles as a step justified by the alleged "unfairness" with which the document was written by the World War's victor nations.

nese troops there. To prevent possible damage should the mole be biased by Chinese authorities, five American warships at Chefoo moved to the outer harbor.

Chinese merchants similarly protested to authorities, contending any Japanese landing would be effected at the Port of Tsing-Tao, to the north, rather than at Chefoo.

Launch Counter Attack

Meanwhile, the crash and roar of battle rumbled through the Chapel district of Shanghai as the Chinese launched a desperate counter-attack near the north Szechuan road. Japanese tanks, blocking the streets, rushed up to meet this new Chinese threat.

The counter-attacks followed the heaviest bombardments the Chinese have endured since hostilities began here. The Chinese swarmed out of their trenches, brandishing swords and bayonets and hurling hand grenades to lock with their Japanese foes in a death-dealing struggle at close quarters. As the battle continued without mercy, the toll of lives mounted high.

To the north, however, the Chinese forces fared less well. Japanese commanders at Peiping reported capture of Chunhsien in Shansi province after a bloody battle in which 10,000 former Chinese communist troops were put to rout.

On other North China fronts, the Japanese claimed continued advances.

Late this afternoon the Japanese operations in Shanghai slackened as a heavy drizzle turned the battlefields to virtual mud ponds. The Japanese took advantage of the opportunity to clean out their trenches, repair wrecked bridges and strengthen their communications.

But before the lull finally came to blood-soaked Shanghai, the Chinese were beating back wave after wave of Japanese infantry assaults and still held north station despite incessant Japanese artillery barrages which have crashed all about that important position.

REEBLE HOUSE CASE Before Commission On Damage Claim

The case of Alice Reebie and James Reebie in which they are asking for damages to a property by reason of the building of the Edensburg viaduct, was taken up before L. R. Dilley, examiner for the Public Utility Commission at the Lawrence county court house this morning.

The property, consisting of a seven-room house, located west of the viaduct on the north Edensburg side, is alleged to have been damaged by water, and by reason of the high embankment leading to the approach of the Edensburg bridge.

The next case to be taken up will be that of Gertrude Medine, who lost two houses entirely by the building of the viaduct.

Giants And Yankees Ready For Series Opener

Hubbell-Gomez Opposing Hurlers For First Game

Yankee Stadium Will Be Filled To Overflowing If Weather Is Right

Both Teams Appear Confident, Yanks Favored In Betting On Series

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—While, inside, there apparently was to be an all-time record crowd of 70,000 or more yammering and clamoring in the immemorial way and, outside, a nation practically comes to parade for two hours, the Yankees and Giants were to go into the premiere of the 1937 all-New York world series this afternoon, starting at 1:30 o'clock. This was history to repeat itself five times over and twice in a row in connection with the two New York clubs and perhaps even in series weather, for it rained fair into the night and this morning the aspect was ominous.

was a good chance that another thing it might eliminate is the open-air customer.

Same Faces

Being as these were the same clubs, using the same parks and practically the same faces that we saw in the series last year, the 130,000 three-day sale was a distinct tribute to baseball's enduring popularity. In fact, some of the downtown ticket agencies were prepared to consent yesterday to accepting from $10 to $15 for a single game, grandstand seat—and this in the face of the fact that the world's champion Yankees were so highly fancied over the Giants that Broadway was quoting odds of 2½ to 1.

Moreover, it was offering what seemed to be a preposterous price of 6-1 against the Yanks winning four straight. If you wanted to bet the Giants that way, for instance, the price was 16-1, decidedly more in line with the facts of life. It seemed almost incredible, though, that 2-1 was being posted against Hubbell today.

Four Backfield Sets For Dukes

Boyd Brumbaugh Is Big Shot In Duquesne Backfield This Year

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—Duquesne University's rotating backfield will be able to hurl four complete sets of halfbacks at opposing lines this year with the bruising effect of a coal-heaver's bang.

Boyd Brumbaugh, Duke All-American hope, and George Matsik, hero of the Pitt game last year, win hands down as the starting halfbacks with those midge bundles of dynamite, Vince McKeeta and Geno Onder, ready to take up the chores at the drop of a hat.

Two sophomore platoon husters, Bob Cain and Bill Gallagher, follow next in line with another pair of second-year men, John Fedorchak and John Yurchak, cast in a mopping-up role.

Cain, because of his remarkable passing ability, will have a season ticket in and out of the Duke backfield. Gallagher has already established himself as a human derelict as difficult to stop as a political spicer.

Major Leagues Draft Minors

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Claimed in the annual draft, 15 minor leaguers will be given tryouts by big leagues next spring.

The major aspirants included Pitchers Nelson Potter of Columbus and Ralph Buxton of Oklahoma City who will be tried out by the Philadelphia Athletics. The Philadelphia Phillies claimed Pitchers Thomas Reis of Wilkes-Barre and William Ehrenberger of Sioux City and Robert Kliner of Sacramento was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Says Panthers Have Chance To Develop Into Strong Eleven

Toss Bouquets

"These Golden Cats of the University of Pittsburgh are just fair and nothing else. They lost several valuable men who are hard to replace, for instance, one of whom is LaRue."

This is the way Alec Fox, former Pitt star and now an assistant coach, answered a News sports writer several days ago during his visit to his home town.

"But Alec, you've got Goldberg, Daddio, Hoffman back, Dalle Tazze, Raskowski, Cassiano and a world of material. Gee, you're almost four deep in every spot and you tell me Pitt has a fair team," the sports writer returned.

"Listen, if you would come to Pittsburgh and watch them drill, you would agree with me. I'll say 'this, we have a chance of developing into a strong club later on. Just look at that schedule, it is brutal.'"

"How are our New Castle lads doing?" "Raskowski and Charles Fleming are doing all right by themselves. Of course, Fleming has a huge task ahead of him with Daddio and Hoffman at ends. Raskowski is in the thick of the battle. Raskowski started the first game and looked fairly good."

"How about Cassiano?" "He'll be all right after he gets some experience. You see, everybody thinks he's great because he ran wild against that Ohio team. Why, you could have done the same thing. Ohio was playing a nine-man line which means that after Cassiano got away from the line he had but two backfield men to contend with. So you see, there was nothing to it."

"I think you're trying to kid me, Fox, come on let's have the real low down."

"Just a fair club, nothing to get excited about. Give them time and they may weave into a good team," Fox replied shaking his head nonchalantly.

"What do you think they will do against West Virginia university?" "I believe W. V. U. will beat us, unless we are much better than we have been in practice sessions. Boy, Pitt looks terrible during practices. We sure will have a fight on our hands." (Editor's note: Pitt trimmed West Virginia, 20-0.)

After it was all said and done the writer thought he had interviewed Dr. Raskowski. Fox speaks just like the great coach, never too optimistic about his teams which annually rank with the best in the land.

The only time Fox sees the Panthers in action is during practice sessions. His duties call for scout work over the week-ends.

Coaches Prepare Titans For Game Saturday

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 6.—Coach Grover C. Washbaugh and Assistant Dick Kelleher examine what they hope will be a "lucky piskin", the one that will be used Saturday, Oct. 9, in Westminster's homecoming day game with the California Teachers.

Coach Bill Steers, California teachers will include 14 lettermen, four tackles averaging 200 pounds each, and a varsity eleven that lost only two men in last year's graduation. Against this aggregation, Coach Washbaugh will send a Titan eleven of six lettermen, with four freshmen in the starting lineup, a fair line, and a light, fast backfield.

Westminster's homecoming game is set for 2 o'clock, Saturday, Oct. 9, at New Wilmington.

Yanks Confident As Series Opens

American League Entries Think They Can Win In Four Straight Games

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The differences between the Giants and Yanks, as they head into the world series today, is this...the Giants think they can win in seven games...the Yanks believe they can take four straight.

The Yankees' Pat Malone...who has pitched in both leagues...gives you the ball players' slant on the two parks...Polo grounds and Yankee stadium...The Yankee stadium is a fast ball pitcher's park the Polo grounds is better for curve ball pitchers.

"The short right and left fields at the P. G. put a premium on control...You don't let a pull hitter get hold of a ball...because if you do he can almost bust a homer...In the stadium you can take more chances...pour it in, and let 'em hit it."

Built For Pitchers.

"The Giant pitchers are built to specifications for their own park...all low ball pitchers...Hubbell with the screw ball...Melton with his low hook...and Schumacher with his sinker."

"But we'll be over there with Pearson for the third game...and he'll probably be tougher for the Giants than either Gomez or Ruffing...In other words, it's parks for pitchers."

Yankee hitters think the Polo ground is a hitter's paradise...practicing there yesterday...Crossetti, Lazzari, Rolfe, Hoag and Selkirk hit dozens of balls...down the foul lines into both upper and lower stands...and DiMaggio, Gehrig and Dickey...hit a few over the stands and clean out of the ball park.

Gridders Drill Hard For Game

Despite Rain, New Castle High Team Holds Strenuous Workout

WASHINGTON HIGH FRIDAY OPPONENT

Despite the fact that it rained yesterday afternoon, the New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team was out on the greensward of Taggart Stadium going through the paces. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh wanted to see how his team would handle a wet slippery ball.

The game this coming Friday night with the powerful Washington High team has the head mentor worried no end. It is the fourth Class AA team for the locals and with three double A victories in the bag the New Castle boys want another.

Washington will be the first real test for the locals. The "Little Presidents" are undefeated in four starts this year and hope to continue their string here at Taggart Stadium.

Piccutta Or Kulnis

In the backfield on the first team yesterday Bridenbaugh was using Lauro at fullback, Gender at the blocking half and Sovesky and Micaletti at the halves. This will probably be the starting backfield against the big Washington High team.

There is no changes in the line from the Beaver Falls game, outside of the fact that this man Piccutta from the Seventh Ward still battles against Kulnis for the starting guard post. The rest of the line is set, with Carey and Nocera the wingmen.

Washington High will bring a big crowd here Friday night providing the weather is right. They have asked for 1,200 tickets down in the Washington county seat.

Indiana Faces Gopher Eleven

Coach Bo McMillin Has Tough Task Ahead For This Week

By LEO FISCHER
International News Service Sports Editor

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 6.—What's going to happen to his football team before the end of the season is something that isn't worrying Coach Bo McMillin of Indiana very much at the moment.

The horizon doesn't extend beyond Saturday afternoon, when his Hoosiers must face a raging Minnesota team in the Gophers' own back yard.

After that, says Bo, he can give some attention to the rest of his schedule, which includes conference encounters with Illinois, Ohio, Iowa and Purdue, and non-conference engagements against Nebraska and Cincinnati.

Has Small Crowd.

It is scarcely in the books for Indiana to hand Bierman's outfit another defeat—but the manner in which McMillin's team goes through Saturday's game will determine in a great measure what future success he may have.

One of Bo's biggest worries is to avoid any serious injuries, for his squad is the smallest in the conference, next to Chicago's. A complete line of veterans and one good set of backs are available.

McMillin's biggest problem, besides that of reserve material, is to find an adequate replacement for Vernon Huffman, who deservedly won the Big Ten trophy last year for being the player of most value to his team. It's may have the man in Corbett Davis, 200-pounder who last season was out because of illness.

Wabash Bears Cancel Game

Will Play Youngstown Owls At Youngstown Sunday Instead Of Keystone A. C.

The Wabash Bears football team will go to Youngstown on Sunday afternoon to meet the Youngstown Owls at Evans field, it was announced by Bennie Pelosi today.

The scheduled game for this Sunday with the Keystone A. C. team has been cancelled. It will be played at a later date, it was also announced. Manager Tony Domenick and Coach "Blackie" Adamo have called a practice session for every night this week at the E. & A. field at 5:30 o'clock. The Bears hope to be in fine shape for the game at the Ohio city.

The Wabash Bears have one of the finest teams in the city and are out for the city championship.

Hubbell And Gomez Get Ready For Mound Battle, McCarthy Picks Lineup

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A left-handed hurling duel between Vernon Gomez of the Yankees and Carl Hubbell of the Giants will open the world series today.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the American League—and world—champions announced selection of Gomez and revealed the rest of his lineup and his batting order as follows:

McCarthy may said he may switch Hoag in ahead of Selkirk in the batting order, and that he may use Tom Henrich, instead of Hoag, in right field against right-handed pitching.

This sets the stage for the fifth All-New York world series battle. Manager Bill Terry of the Giants previously have nominated Hubbell to start on the mound and revealing the rest of his selections.

The pitching in itself is the most intriguing to open any world series in recent years. Gomez and Hubbell, on their records for this season and among the all time leaders. Gomez won 21 and lost 11 through the last season while Hubbell turned in 22 victories against eight defeats.

With left-handed Cliff Melton, attack and one of three Yankees on the ailing list. Rolfe has just recovered from a pulled leg muscle and Selkirk's shoulder—injured in mid-season—still is sore. However, they both are in shape to play.

As for the rest of the Yankees, they are all right except for an epidemic of colds. Most of them, however, have recovered entirely and are ready to attempt to make it two straight over their fellow-townsmen.

Baseball Commissioner Landis and Presidents Ford Frick and William Harridge of the National and American leagues, respectively, met with umpires assigned to the series as the final official prelude to the opening game.

After ironing out routine matters, Frick asked that the American League umpires—Emmett Ormsby and Steve Basil—run down the foul lines on all balls hit in that territory at the Polo grounds, to forestall disputes. A ball hit in the Giants' park might be a short homer into the stands or a foul.

The National League umpires are Bill Stewart and George Barr.

Week Of Services At

The Reverend James H. Lawther, D.D., Ph.D., minister at the First Presbyterian church of East Liverpool, O., has been engaged to preach at the Rich Hill Presbyterian church next week. The services, which are to be evangelistic, will begin Monday evening, October 11 and continue through Sunday evening, October 17, there being no service Saturday evening, however. Truck Driver
Is Beaten Up

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—The first serious violence in the scattered Pennsylvania truck strikes occurred here today as pickets who have blocked border highways extended their activities as far in-state as Pittsburgh.
Edgell Hollen, 26, an independent truck owner, of Akron, Pa., was badly beaten by a gang of men who forced his vehicle to the curb when he attempted to explain why he did not have a union card, he reported to police. His condition was critical, according to the hospital. His cousin, Guy Hollen, escaped by leaping from the truck and police were not immediately able to locate him. The highway blockades instituted at Uniontown had spread as far to the east as York where pickets were halting drivers and demanding union membership cards.

EAST SIDE TOWNSEND CLUB

But do the staid old magazines really make any more money since they admitted cuss words and sexy stories?

Roosevelt Speech Is Greeted With Mixed Reception

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Oct. 6.—President Roosevelt's Chicago speech on American foreign policy met a mixed reception in Germany today, while some quarters attempted to show his remarks were directed against bolsheviks. While the foreign office and propaganda ministr, withheld comment, the newspaper Tageblatt remarked: "The speech indicates the president's moral reproaches to the world are of a less theoretical nature this time. It could be welcomed only if the speech forecast a more accurate participation of the United States (in world affairs), provided such participation were not based on one-sided information of the president."

French Pleased By Roosevelt Speech

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 6.—Keen pleasure was the reaction of official French circles today to the Chicago speech by President Roosevelt asking for a "sanity cordon" around trouble-making nations. A French foreign office spokesman declared his government was "most impressed" with the speech, and added: "I do not think it changes essentially America's position, but it gives the countries working for peace strong moral support." "If war does come," the spokesman added, "America's sympathies will be with the democracies, even though the United States remains neutral. That is extremely important."

But, Mr. President, are you making all this fuss about the Supreme Court just to get some more Blacks?
